Coconino County Earns SCF Arizona's Sentinel Award

Coconino County will be presented SCF Arizona's Sentinel Award and three previous winners will be recognized for their commitment to workplace safety, Tuesday, July 10, during SCF Arizona's Safety Works Expo.

The expo, which takes place at Little America, 2515 E. Butler Ave., in Flagstaff, is designed for safety professionals, employers and their employees. Three tracks of safety seminars will be offered concurrently, and vendors will display the latest in workplace safety equipment and services.

Scheduled seminars will focus on fall protection, ergonomics, fire hazards and protection, visits from the Occupational Safety & Health Administration, workplace accident investigation, work zone safety, workers' compensation legal issues and more.

Along with the presentation to Coconino County, previous Sentinel Award winners, Flagstaff-based Eagle Mountain Construction, Kingman-based Laron Inc. and Grand Canyon Airport-based Papillon Grand Canyon Helicopters will be recognized during lunch.

Sentinel Awards are presented to employers that show a commitment to involving their employees in the development of a safe work environment; maintain a safe workplace – with no fatalities – during the policy year; have a good working relationship with SCF Arizona.

Safety Works Expo doors open at 7:30 a.m. for registration, and the last session of seminars ends at 3:30 p.m. Cost is $49, and that price includes a continental breakfast and a lunch. For information or to register, call 602.631.2002 or visit www.scfaz.com.

SCF Arizona is the state's largest provider of workers' compensation insurance, covering more than 57,000 Arizona companies, representing nearly 70 percent of the market. As a leading advocate of workplace safety, SCF Arizona sponsors five Safety Works Expos statewide.
